IMPEACHMENT.

VOTE ON THE 11TH ARTICLE.

FULL REPORT OF PROCEEDINGS.

SCENES AND INCIDENTS.

The excitement of last Tuesday was repeated to day at the Capitol, and was, if anything, more intense than upon that day. The hall of the House was crowded with applicants for tickets of admission to the High Court of Impeachment, while the passages leading to the Senate Chamber were thronged again. The rules that had been laid down by the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate for observance on Tuesday last were fully carried out to day. The force of Metropolitan Policemen which has been in attendance for the preservation of order seemed to have been drilled, and the officers of the law were stationed at all points about the corridors and in the galleries, with instructions to nip in the bud any demonstration of approval or disapproval at the action or vote of any Senator, or of the Senate as a body sitting as a High Court of Impeachment.

The House did not assemble until 12 o'clock, but before that hour nearly every member was in the Hall, and they gathered in knots at different points and somewhat excitedly discussed the probable result of to-day's operations. The Democrats generally expressed themselves confident of acquittal in the event of the vote being taken, while the Republicans as a general thing were doubtful, although some of the more sanguine still nursed a hope that Mr. Johnson would be found guilty on a sufficient number of the articles to justify his removal.

But all speculations were destined to come to an end, for at 12.10 a message was received from the Senate, and the House, as in Committee of the Whole, proceeded in a body to the bar of the Senate.

After order had been restored and the members of the House had become seated the question was taken upon Mr. Senator Sumner's motion to vote upon the eleventh article first, and it was agreed to, all the Senators voting, one way or the other, except Mr. Grimes, who had not yet entered the Senate Chamber. Senator Howard was in his seat enveloped in a thick shawl.

A motion was then made to proceed at once to vote, as ordered by the Senate, when Senator Fessenden rose in his place and suggested a postponement of the vote for half an hour, by which time Senator Grimes would be present. At this moment, however, Senator Grimes, looking pale and feeble, came into the door to the right of the Chief Justice, and took a seat there.

The eleventh article was then read and the roll called, and the question was asked each Senator successively.

Senator Anthony being first on the roll, and being counted as doubtful, all eyes were turned upon him, and in a faltering voice he voted "guilty."

A buzz ran through the galleries, but having been admonished by the Chief Justice, and squads of policemen being stationed about the hall, no loud demonstration was made.

Then followed two votes for acquittal, Messrs. Bayard and Buckalew, but their votes excited no remark, as this was to be expected. Cameron, Cattell, and Chandler voted successively for conviction, and when Mr. Cole's name was called curiosity was again excited, because it had been reported that he was one of the doubtful ones upon some of the articles. With a steady voice, however, he voted "guilty." Conkling, Conness, Corbett, and Cragin voted, as it was expected they would, guilty. So on the other side, Davis, Dixon, and Doolittle voted successively for acquittal; the latter responding in a tone of voice, loud and clear. Drake was next called, and he tried to throw in his voice a tone of unconcern, when every one knew that he had long ago committed himself, and that he was concerned for the result. Edmunds and Ferry next voted successively for conviction. The Secretary then called Mr. Fessenden. The Senator rose and stretched his tall form to its full length, and stood erect. He placed his thumbs in his pants' pockets, and thus listened to the reading of the questions by the Chief Justice. Senator Sumner, who sits behind him, leaned over to catch a glimpse of Fessenden's face. The latter was perfectly composed and in the clear voice of an honest, conscientious man voted "not guilty."

The Clerk then called, "Mr. Fowler!"—The latter was from his seat to the left of the Chief Justice. He placed his hands upon his desk, and listened to the reading of the question. All eyes were directed toward him, for he was considered doubtful, and a tremendous pressure had been brought to bear upon him. The question having been read, he made a response which was not distinctly heard, and he was requested to repeat, when in a tremulous voice he answered "not guilty." The friends of the President breathed more freely, while Sumner, Chandler and Howard made a desperate but unsuccessful effort to conceal their disappointment. The vote now stood 12 for conviction and 7 for acquittal, and both parties became nervous. Senator Frelinghuysen is next on the roll to Fowler, and he voted guilty, although he has been claimed by both parties. Still, he was not positively counted on.

The name of Senator Grimes was next called. As stated above, that gentleman occupied a chair to the left of the Chief Justice, and the latter, alluding to his recent indisposition, suggested that he be permitted to retain his seat while voting, and no objection was made, and the Iowa Senator voted for acquittal. Senator Harlan followed with a vote for conviction.—Senator Henderson was next called, and he rose nervously in his place under a battery of Radical eyes from the Radical side, while Conkling, Thayer, and Patterson, of New Hampshire, leaned forward with anxiety.—The Missouri Senator had not spoken against the 11th article, and although his vote was claimed for acquittal, his Radical friends still hoped. He was true to his principles, however, and voted not guilty. Mr. Hendricks followed with a vote upon the same side. Senator Howard's name came next, and he placed his shawl upon his desk in front of him. The Chief Justice made the same suggestion in his case as in that of Mr. Grimes, but the Michigan Senator preferred to stand, although very weak, and he voted for conviction, and was followed by Senator Howe on the same side. Johnson and McCreery followed, voting not guilty, and Morgan, Morrill, of Maine, Morrill, of Vermont, and Morton voted successively for conviction, making the vote stand twenty for conviction and twelve for acquittal. Norton increased the latter to thirteen, and Nye and Patterson, of New Hampshire, increased the votes for conviction to 22. Mr. Patterson, of Tennessee, was next called, and some one in the reporter's gallery made the remark, "He's a pretty man to be called for a vote," to which a response was made, "The beauty of the thing will be apparent when Wade's name is called." Senator Patterson, of Tennessee, voted for acquittal. Pomeroy and Ramsey then voted for conviction.

The name of Mr. Ross was then called, and he rose promptly and voted for acquittal, much to the disappointment of his colleagues of the Senate and House. Saulsbury followed on the same side, making the vote for acquittal 16. Sherman voted for conviction, and Sprague followed the lead of his colleague, Mr. Anthony, and voted in the same direction. Stewart, Sumner, Thayer, and Tipton followed on the same side, and then Mr. Trumbull's name was called, and, rising in his seat, pronounced the words "not guilty" with more emphasis than any other Senator had given them. Next was called Mr. Van Winkle, and the excitement now became intense. Seventeen votes only had thus far been cast for acquittal. Mr. Vickers was, of course, certain, and the only dependence now of the President's friends was upon Van Winkle and Willey. The vast audience on the floor and in the galleries held their breath as the question was asked, and the West Virginia Senator voted "not guilty." This secured acquittal, for Vickers was certain, and he followed Van Winkle. Then the hum of voices was again hushed, for Senator Wade's name was now called. "Is he going to vote?" was whispered about the galleries, but all curiosity was soon put at rest, for he rose to the left of the Chief Justice and voted guilty—this (with the exception of the vote given upon the motion to take the vote first on the eleventh article) being the first vote he had cast since the trial commenced. Now was heard the name of another doubtful Senator, Willey, of West Virginia, and there was much curiosity to know how he would vote, although it did not matter much, because acquittal was already secured. Contrary to the best expectations, however, he voted for conviction. Williams, Wilson and Yates closed the roll call, and the President was acquitted on the eleventh article—the test article—two-thirds not having voted for conviction. The galleries breathed freer now, that the result was ascertained, and but for the presence of so many policemen a cheer to almost rend the roof of the Senate chamber would have been heard.

Pending the roll-call Members and Senators had provided themselves with yea and nay lists, and noted the varying votes. All the managers were present, occupying the seats they had occupied during the trial, while the President's counsel, including the Attorney General, were also present, occupying their old seats. They, too, noted the progress of the vote with much interest.

As soon as the result was known several motions to adjourn immediately and to adjourn for a number of days were made and severally disposed of, as was also a motion of Senator McCreery to adjourn the Court of Impeachment sine die. After a while a motion was made and prevailed, that the vote on the eleventh article just taken be officially announced. The names were read, and the Chief Justice announced the President acquitted on the eleventh article; and a motion was subsequently made and prevailed, that the High Court adjourn until the 26th. instant.

The members of the House immediately returned to their Hall with varying emotions, the Democrats being jubilant, while the Radicals were decidedly nervous and excited, and could do nothing but mutter about bribes and corruption.

The impeachment managers hid their diminished heads, but Stevens, Boutwell, and Logan in a short time walked into the Hall. Mr. Boutwell, however, soon left, and Mr. Logan snapped out a request for leave of absence, which was granted, and he immediately took his hat and departed. Mr. Stevens faced it out, occupying, as usual, his seat at the Clerk's desk.

As soon as the House was called to order, Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, as Chairman of the Committee of the Whole, announced the result of the vote in the Senate, but the dose was a nauseous one, and a petted child, taking a dose of castor oil, could not have manifested more disgust than did the Illinois member, when he announced the President's acquittal. It is needless to say that the dose was equally nauseous to nearly every Radical member, and it would not have been a matter of surprise to see the Speaker faint as he directed the Clerk to spread the report at large upon the Journal.

Mr. Eldridge then offered a resolution to investigate the facts of the letter written to Mr. Henderson by the Missouri members, but the House again refused to entertain the motion.

The House then proceeded with its regular business.

At three o'clock Mr. Bingham offered a resolution directing the managers of impeachment to examine alleged corruption with regard to impeachment, and it is now being considered.

The Bankrupt Act.

We have been requested to publish the Bankrupt Law. This is impossible. It makes a respectable volume. In order, however, that our readers may understand it, and may therefore not be liable to be imposed upon by parties, who are indifferent to the interests of others, we have taken some pains to compile from several sources the following general principles of the Act, for the benefit of all who contemplate seeking its benefits. But first of all, we advise our friends not to determine hastily what they will do, until they have had the counsel of a respectable and intelligent Attorney, upon whom they can rely.

1. The manifest design of the Bankrupt Law is to benefit honest, but unfortunate, debtors, whose just liabilities are greater than they can pay.

2. To become a voluntary bankrupt under this Act, the debtor must owe at least $300, which, of course, he is not able to pay in full.

3. Petitioners under the Bankrupt Act are required to render a schedule of all their debts and liabilities, of every kind and description whatever, and also an inventory of all their estate, both real and personal, including all property and effects of which they are possessed, or in which they may have an interest, (though not in possession) in conformity with certain "Forms" prescribed in the "General Orders" of the Supreme Court of the United States. These schedules, verified by the oath of the petitioner before a District Court Judge, Register in Bankruptcy, or U S Commissioner, must accompany the petition, and, when filed, is the commencement of proceedings in Bankruptcy. If it should be found out, pending the proceedings at any time before the bankrupt is discharged, that he has, by any shift or subterfuge, made a false or partial schedule, this would be evidence of fraud and would defeat his discharge.

4. When the petition is by a firm or copartnership, a full set of schedules of the respective estates of the members of the firm should also be added.

5. When the petition is filed, the case is immediately referred to a Register, who examines the petition and schedules annexed thereto, and if they are correct in form, makes a certificate to that effect, to be filed with the Clerk, then adjudges the debtor a Bankrupt and issues a warrant to the messenger to summon all the creditors named in the petitioner's schedules to meet at the Register's office, at a certain time and place, to prove their claims and elect one or more Assignees to take charge of the Bankrupt's estate.

6. A creditor can, however, prove his claim at any time previous to the last dividend, which will generally be six months subsequent to the adjudication of Bankruptcy.

7. No creditor has any standing in a Bankrupt Court until he proves his claim.

8. Creditors have no right to compel the Bankrupt to answer questions concerning the disposal of property by him acquired subsequent to filing a petition in Bankruptcy. "In other words, the date of the filing of the petition by or against a debtor, is the date at which, if adjudication of bankruptcy follows, the old order of things passes away and a new leaf is turned over." On this point decisions have been variant. The safe rule appears to be, that the applicant in Bankruptcy has a perfect right to claim whatever he has made after his application, by his personal exertions, but any profits he may have made, from investment or credits, may be liable to the claim of the receiver up to almost the period of his discharge.

9. The Bankrupt can apply to the Court at any time after the expiration of six months, and within one year from the adjudication, for the discharge in bankruptcy, and in case no assets come into the hands of the assignee, or no debts be proved against his estate, at any time after the expiration of sixty days.

10. As soon as an Assignee is elected or appointed, the Judge or Register will convey to him, by deed of assignment, all the bankrupt's property except what is exempted, viz: "Household and kitchen furniture and other necessaries not exceeding in value ($500) five hundred dollars; also his wearing apparel and that of his wife and children, and such other property not included in the foregoing as is exempt from levy and sale upon execution or other process by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt resides, to an amount not exceeding that allowed by State exemption laws in force in 1864. A safe 'Counsellor suggests, under this head, that the common impression that persons may become bankrupts and yet be allowed to retain their houses and lands, or other property of considerable value, is a great mistake. Under the Act, no honest Bankrupt in this State can have allotted to him, free from the operation of the Act, exceeding $750, besides the wearing apparel of himself and family. Bankrupts in this State are not entitled to homesteads under this Act.

11. It is the duty of the assignee, within twenty days after the assignment to him is made, to allot to the bankrupt such articles as are exempted, and file an inventory of the same with the value of each article so allotted, and creditors may make objections to the report of the Assignee at any time within twenty days after it is filed.

12. As to costs in bankruptcy proceedings, section 46 of the Bankrupt Act provides that the petitioner, before a warrant issues, shall deposit fifty dollars with the Register, or with the Clerk, to be delivered to the Register as a security for his fees. General order XXIX provides that the fees of the Register, Marshal and Clerk shall be prepaid or secured before they can be compelled to act. It is also provided by General order XXX, that where the debtor has no means, and can prove the fact to the satisfaction of the Court, upon application, an order will be made requiring all the costs in the case to be paid out of the fifty dollars deposited with the Register. If, however, there are assets, but not enough to pay the Messenger after deducting the Bankrupt's exempted property, so that nothing comes into the hands of the Assignee, the fees will have to be paid by the Bankrupt; but if the Assignee receives assets, the fees of the Messenger will be paid by him before any dividend is made among creditors

13. Some suppose that the Register is entitled to $50 fee. The fees of the Register, Messenger, Clerk, and costs of publication of notices in Bankruptcy, are fixed by law, and if they demand higher fees, they are liable, as in other cases of malfeasance in office. In ordinary cases of Bankruptcy, the fees may amount to $100. In some cases more, in some less—the costs depending on the amount of labor and litigation involved in each case.

14. Differences of opinion among Attorneys have existed in this State, as to the limit which the Act makes as to the time to make application in Bankruptcy. Some have supposed that no debtor will be permitted to apply for Bankruptcy after some early day in March, unless he is able to pay fifty per cent of his debts. We are assured that this is not the case. The law did not go into operation for the purposes for which it was enacted until June 1st, 1867. It gives twelve months from that time, to all honest debtors, whatever may be the extent of their indebtedness which they cannot pay, in which to present their applications. After the 1st of June next, every debtor must be able to pay fifty per cent of his indebtedness in order to a successful application in bankruptcy, unless he first obtain the consent of a majority of his creditors.

PARTY MADNESS—HOPE FOR THE COUNTRY.

The Radical press and wire-workers admit that Impeachment is dead, so far as the present Articles are concerned. For some reason or other, the Eleventh Article seems to have been considered the strongest in the series, and the failure to convict on that is acknowledged to involve a failure in toto on the existing counts.

The foiled malignity of the Impeachers is finding vent in the most insane and ribald ravings—against the President, against the Chief Justice, but, most of all, against the seven honest Republican Senators, who refused to prostitute their consciences at the unscrupulous and despotic bidding of party. Having failed to impeach the President and pending a spasmodic effort to fabricate fresh falsehoods for the easy deglutition of the coming carpet-bag Senators from the South, that senile ruffian, old Thad Stevens, has inaugurated a new movement looking to the impeachment of the jury, or, rather, that part of it, which voted for the acquittal of the President. The telegraphic abstract of Monday's proceedings in the House informs us that he offered a resolution, calling for the secret proceedings of the Court, accompanying the insertment and offensive demand with the remark, that "No one could doubt that there was deep damnation somewhere," and the insinuation that the seven Senators were none too good to forswear themselves. No wonder that so unwarrantable a demand and so libellous an imputation caused, as is reported, a bitter debate in the Senate. We would fain hope that even the extremest Radical Senators themselves denounced, in indignant terms, the crazy and malevolent villification of this bad and desperate old man.

All of these things indicate that rupture and incipient disintegration in the Radical ranks, from which the country has so much to hope. The process, which has commenced, promises to separate the more virtuous and rational element of that party from the unprincipled, fanatical and revolutionary—and out of such a schism good must come. The extreme lawlessness of Radicalism has run its course. The apostacy (as it is termed by Forney, Greeley & Co.) of such conspicuous lights as Chase, Fessenden, Trumbull, Evarts, Grimes, &c., is the turning point in the tide. These men will rally about them a conservative influence which will tend vastly to swell the great reactionary movement, which is already surging to the overthrow of ultra-Radicalism.

The New York World, in the following extract, foreshadows the fate of the Impeachment party and of the Jacobin leaders. We will simply add, to the World's prognostications, our prediction, that the more prominent Southern Radicals,—those who, as we have heretofore said, have belied all their former professions and forfeited self respect and the respect of their neighbors, for a mess of filthy pottage,—will yet wish for the mountains to cover their shame, and will back out of their present associations, if they are ever allowed to do so, as ingloriously as they have denied their old secession and war proclivities:

"The split caused by the impeachment will leave the Republican party without respectable leaders. Of the demagogues who are left, there is scarcely one who will retain any influence after the lapse of another year. Thad. Stevens will ere long be in his grave. Greeley, who incurred the curses of his party last year by bailing Jefferson Davis, has earned the contempt of all honest men by leading just such a movement this spring as was stirred up against himself last. His base and craven attempt atones for taking the part of Mr. Davis, but will not reinstate him in the confidence of the Republicans. He has failed to gain a seat in the Cabinet of Mr. Wade. He gives the country reason to suppose that he signed Davis's bond from no better motive than love of notoriety; and finding that it cost more than he expected, he has taken the first opportunity to out Herod Herod in leading a new clamor for a victim. Having, as a last abortive attempt to get office, made himself an expectant satellite of Ben Wade, he sets with that luminary and the political hopes of both go into total eclipse. Stevens, Wade, and Greeley having had their day, what Radical leaders remain?—Butler never had any influence; Forney is despised by those who use him, Sumner is an egotistical pedant without capacity for leadership; Stanton will be consigned to obscurity by the failure of the impeachment; and General Grant is a new proselyte who turned his coat for the hope of the Presidency. All the able men who in the palmy days of the Republican party were its trusted leaders—Seward, Chase, Fremont, Fessenden, Trumbull, Charles Francis Adams, Grimes, Andrew Johnson, Thurlow Weed—have become so alienated that they will probably never act with the party again. A party which has thus lost its brains has outlived its influence. This impeachment is the crisis of its fate. It will for a little while exhibit the spasmodic energy of an epileptic fit; it will be convulsed, it will foam at the mouth, it will dash its head against the pavement; but such activity is formidable only to itself, and tends to shorten its days."

ONE HUNDRED guns were fired, in Norfolk, in honor of the vote on the Eleventh Article, by which the President was acquitted. Great rejoicings and enthusiastic demonstrations have signalized the event throughout the North.

INFORMATION WANTED.—We would like to know how much taxes the members composing the late State Convention pay? Not including the Conservative portion. Is there any method by which this can be ascertained? 120 Radicals, that were in the Convention of South Carolina, are reported to have paid $84.24 taxes, and received for 60 days service $79,200. We do not think that the state of the case with the N C. Convention would be any better.—Statesville American.

NORTH CAROLINA—DISPATCH FROM GOV. HOLDEN.

RALEIGH, May 14.—Prompt action on the part of Congress, in relation to the admission of North Carolina, will be our only hope to avert a terrible civil war again, in the event the usurper at the White House shall be acquitted.

In the name of humanity, liberty and justice, can it be possible that Andrew Johnson will be acquitted! We have our apprehensions, but, nevertheless, strong hopes that the Senate will vindicate violated law. Strike the usurper from his seat, and thus save the country. It will be the darkest day that ever fell over this land if he should be acquitted.

W. W. HOLDEN.

We clip the above telegram from a Northern exchange. The bitter spirit which it evinces toward President Johnson, who has bestowed his confidence and favor upon the author, in a manner calculated to call forth at least a little sympathy and gratitude, is astounding, when the evidence is so palpable that Mr. Johnson is the object of a partisan malevolence, hitherto unequalled, for causes wholly inadequate.

The most important point in the telegram to our North Carolina readers, however, is the assertion, that "the admission of North Carolina will be our only hope to avert a terrible civil war again, in the event the usurper at the White House shall be acquitted." The statement is a gross libel both of the President and of the people of North Carolina. We defy the author to give a substantial reason for the above assertion. It is of a piece with the malicious slanders which have been sent North by a class of men in our midst, ever since the close of the war, who have been bent upon evil and the continued agitation and distress of the Southern people. All the discord and trouble of the Southern people, since then, lies at the doors of this class of men, who have been determined to disturb the country, to gratify their malice and to secure office and position for themselves, at the risk of the ruin of their own section and people.

What has President Johnson done to prompte civil war in the South? In what has he been remiss, to preserve order and quiet among the people? Wherein has he done anything to disturb the peace, or omitted to do what he could to preserve peace and quiet? What proof is there of the tendencies to civil war in North Carolina? We deny that there is any evidence, whatever, of a purpose or desire, on the part of our people, to disturb the quiet of society or provoke hostilities of any kind. Among the blacks and a few whites, there are indications of lawlessness, exhibited by frequent thefts, burglaries, and sometimes murders and rapes, but all these would soon be subdued by the regular processes of civil law properly administered, upon the removal of military interference.

The white people of North Carolina are opposed, on principle, to the new order of things, and will aid, by all legitimate means, at the ballot box, to change, modify or abolish it; but since the excitement of a political campaign of unusual vigor, because of the intense interest felt in its issues, the people, anxious to make bread, even under such a state of things are quietly pursuing their avocations and rendering due obedience to civil and military law. They are exhibiting their wonted industry and orderly demeanor, with the exceptions alluded to. If civil war, or even momentary bloodshed, were to occur, it must come from a source alien and hostile to the quiet and liberties of our law-abiding people. This the author of the foregoing telegram knows, as well as any one. Does he desire to be placed in a position, in which he can wreak vengeance upon a people, whose only crime is a disapproval of the new government forced upon our people against their will, and whose only offence is a want of confidence in the agents who effected it? Let us try to hope better things of him. 'In the name of humanity, liberty and justice —can it be possible?'

We confess that the above telegram disappoints us. We had heard that a kind and conciliatory article appeared in the Standard, from the Editor's pen, a few days ago, in which he deprecated party feeling and discord, and we had almost hoped for a better state of things than many predicted. Perhaps the above dispatch was only intended to be private and for a specific object.

TIMELY ENERGY WILL BRING IMMIGRATION. We had the pleasure of a call from Rev. Henry Hardie, Bible Agent of the State, last Friday, and spent a few moments in pleasant conversation. Mr. Hardie is travelling over the State, has applied himself diligently to acquiring information of its many undeveloped resources and great advantages for manufacturing, agriculture, soil, mineral, climate, &c., which he has frequently communicated to the public through the press, over the signature of "Itinerant." He has likewise collected materials and information upon all these subjects, enough to compose a "Hand Book of the State," and which, if published, would serve as a guide to inform strangers, in other States and abroad, of the many advantages and inducements North Carolina presents to capitalists, emigrants and settlers, and could not fail to turn the attention of many to the old North State. We commend Mr Hardie, as well as Mr. Zimmer, whose admirable plan we noticed recently, to the encouragement of the Legislature, when it shall assemble; satisfied as we are, that they are the right men, and on the right track, to induce immigration into the State.

We copy the foregoing from the Statesville American. We unite with that paper in its expression of gratification that Mr. Hardie contemplates such a publication as the one indicated. It will supply a great desideratum and cannot fail to prove a most valuable book. There is no man in the State better qualified for its preparation than Mr. Hardie. His duties have led him into almost every corner of the State, and he has carried with him an observing turn of mind, that has viewed our resources and every object of interest in a practical and utilitarian light. His letters, over the signature of "Itinerant," have excited universal commendation, and they foreshadow the character of the work which, we are glad to see, we are to have from his graphic pen.

NASH COURT—INFAMOUS AND DIABOLICAL DESIGNS OF THE LEAGUES EXPOSED IN OPEN COURT, &c.

NASHVILLE, N. C., May 12th, 1868.

Messrs. Editors:—Nash County Court is in session here this week. No case of unusual interest on docket, except an indictment for a riotous and unlawful assembly against a lawless band of negroes, members of the Union League, who had arrested and brought to mock trial one of their own color for voting the Conservative ticket. This trial developed the horrible system of tyranny, intimidation and despotism which govern and control this oath-bound Association. Facts were brought to light to-day, by the testimony of the witnesses, which appalled and startled all who were present, and revealed the fiendish and hellish purposes of this Radical league.

It was proved that one Wiley Taylor, a colored man of this county, was surprised and arrested while at work in his field, on the first day of May, by a band of armed men with guns, muskets, &c., who were acting under orders from their President, and who, after abusing and intimidating the said Taylor, dragged him by force, on the charge of voting the Conservative ticket, to Battleboro', the headquarters of the League in this section. There they put him upon the mockery of a trial for the crime he had committed by voting as he did.—He was held by this mob under the lawless trial a whole day, insulted and threatened with every species of punishment, of torture and even of being hung, which latter fate, some of them declared, was too good for him. It was boldly proclaimed on this pretended trial that no colored man who voted that ticket would be allowed to live in this country—that they were only waiting for orders from Raleigh, from Gov. Holden, when they would punish them all on account of a difference of opinion. As to the manner of punishment, Taylor was allowed, after being grossly maltreated, till the next meeting, two weeks, to receive his sentence. Being terrified and alarmed for his safety, as well as that of his family, Taylor reported the case to the proper authorities. Only two of the party were brought to trial, as most of them lived in Edgecombe county. After the evidence of the witnesses and conviction by the jury, these two came forward and acknowledged their complicity and guilt, and plead in extenuation that they were obeying orders from their chief, which they thought they were bound to do. The court was very lenient in its judgment, considering the nature and magnitude of the crime, subjecting the offenders to a small fine and a short imprisonment. The court took into consideration the ignorance of the offenders, and regarded the ringleaders, not only as the instigators, but chief criminals in the matter. The names of several of these leaders were brought out during the progress of the trial,—Tatten, Stephens, President, Staten, Stratford and others. I presume the proper authorities in Edgecombe county will take them in hand in due time. It was disclosed that the members consider the mock oath administered to them binding, and feel bound to obey any orders from their President.—These developments exhibit what a dangerous element is at work in our midst, and it is to be hoped that the facts and consequences attending this trial will open the eyes of the poor, deluded, ignorant blacks, and induce them to cut loose from this oath bound league, which can only bring them to trouble and ruin. Yours, &c.,

OBSERVER.

THE NEGROES PRAYING FOR CONVICTION.—A dispatch to the Evening Telegram says Washington has been flooded for over a week with the theological luminaries of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, who have been holding a general conference, social, spiritual and political, and while discussing affairs of Church and State have been petitioning the Almighty to direct doubtful republican Senators to vote for the removal of the President. The day before yesterday, just before the proceedings of the conference ended, a sable worthy named Butler moved that to day be set apart for fasting and prayer to the Almighty to throw around the Senate of the United States "the girdling of the Holy Spirit," that a verdict may be passed in the interest of the Freedmen's Bureau, the impecunious carpet baggers and the starving set of office seekers.

At nine o'clock this morning prayers were offered up in the colored churches to bring about the desirable verdict. At the Wesley Zion church, where the conference, composed of fat, sleek darky preachers, assembled, presenting in appearance a rare gathering of superannuated cooks, some tall sententious praying was performed. The Rev. Sampson Jones, after reading the dedicatory prayer of King Solomon, said he hoped "de Lord would stiffen wid de grace of fortitude de doubtful backbone of de waverly Senators, and dat Andrew Johnson, de demented Moses of Tennessee, would be disremoved by de sanctimonious voice of de Senate to whar de wicked cease from troublin and de weary am at rest." A good many impromptu prayers followed, all earnestly asking "de Lord, de Saviour, and de Almighty" to remove Andrew Johnson as quick as be conveniently can, and to reserve a special place of excruciating torture in the realm of Hades for such republican Senators as voted for acquittal.

"We know de Lord is just," exclaimed Brudder Jones with a face of shining ebony, "and dat de place of torment an torture is preserved all de same for de Senator and sinner, but especially for de Senator who after taken an oath wid de most solemn solemnity, votes for de quittal of de prisoner, Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee."—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Herald, 15th.

A DEFINITION OF THE "CARPET BAGGER." According to the ideas of the editor of the Planter's Banner, if carpet baggers had been known in the time of Macbeth, the witches might have saved themselves an immense amount of trouble in going so far for some of the ingredients of their celebrated hell-broth, and improved on it by resolving one of those peripatetic animals. He says:

"The devil first invented snakes, fleas, scorpions, tarantulas, centipedes, mosquitoes, gnats, hyenas, owls, buzzards, hawks, vultures, alligators, stingarees, gars, sharks, chigres and vampyres; and to concentrate all the meanness and deviltry in creation, he put these in a cauldron and boiled them down and produced a carpet bagger, as the grand masterpiece of Satanic hate.—And Satan smiled when his eye first rested on his last born and favorite bantling."

It is pleasant to read among the harrowing episodes of the dreadful disaster on the Erie railroad, that the lives were insured for one hundred and eighty-one thousand dollars. Comprehend, if you can, the amount of suffering and privation which life insurance in this instance drives away from the door of many a widowed wife and mother!

The pipes are being rapidly laid to defeat Grant at Chicago, if we are to give any credence to Washington rumors and gossips, and Ben Wade is to "do him unto death."

Forney says that "no republican who opposes the conviction of Andrew Johnson will be allowed a seat in the Republican Convention at Chicago."

MANASSAS AND BULL RUN MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION.

We the ladies, residing on and in the vicinity of Manassas and Bull Run battle-fields, have formed ourselves into a society to be known by the name of the "MANASSAS AND BULL RUN MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION," and have for our object the re-interment of the Confederate dead, now scattered in groups and in isolated graves for many miles, and liable soon to be obliterated by the ploughshare. We solicit aid from our sisters and brethren of the South, and indeed everywhere. Were it not for poverty we would not call upon you. We feel assured that our appeal will not be made in vain, from the fact that our object is one of a charitable and benevolent end. The noble and brave heroes, that gave up their life's blood upon the altar of their country, now lie buried with scarcely a vestige to mark their honored graves. We appeal to fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers, to assist us in our holy labors, and the gallant departed spirits will bless you, and your benevolence will cheer the heart of the Widows and Orphans of the dead.—Shall we neglect the graves of the chivalrous Southerners, that offered up their lives for our independence? Shall we remain deaf to the call of their hallowed blood? No, we owe a debt to the remains of our honored dead, which must not be neglected because we have passed through the terrible ordeal with our lives and health. Our object is to have the bodies of the Confederate dead decently re-interred, and we will redouble our efforts to accomplish that, and our labors shall not cease until the last Confederate shall have been placed in the enclosure of the cemetery we now desire to establish.

In order to have them decently interred and inclosed in one cemetery some $5,000 will be needed. Those of our friends at a distance who desire to contribute, can do so by addressing our corresponding Secretary, Miss Sue M. Monroe, Gainesville, Prince William Co., Va.

PRESIDENT	MISS A. M. LEWIS,
VICE PRESIDENT	" M. J. DOGAN,
" "	" M. E. COMPTON,
RECORDING SEC.	" M. E. CUSHING,
CORRESP'ING SEC.	" SUE M. MONROE,
TREASURER	MRS. A. S. WHEELER.

We publish, with pleasure, the foregoing touching appeal by the ladies of the Manassas Memorial Association, in the hope that it will be properly responded to. The smallness of the sum needed has its own eloquence. It is meet that those who are left, by the arbitrament of war, rich in little else than graves and memories, should be content, while they continue in this condition, with the cheapest, simplest and most unpretending enshrinement of these riches. In existing circumstances, pretension to more than this would be mockery. No costly mausoleum or gorgeous cenotaph is wanted to emblazon the glory of the dead, or to attest the sorrow, gratitude and admiration of the living. History is sure to take care of the first, and human nature itself must decline from all that it has of nobility, before the last shall decay.

Contributions in response to the appeal of the Association will be received and forwarded by Mrs. L. O'B. Branch, President of the Wake Memorial Association.

THE STAVE BUSINESS.—We have, on several occasions, called the attention of our people to the stave business. Its profitableness was demonstrated by our friends, Messrs. J. B. Hunter & Co., of Portsmouth, Va., and we are glad to learn that a number of persons in this section have gone into it, and that those gentlemen are realizing the results of their efforts and of their promptness and diligence in business. Considerable shipments of staves are going forward to them, for which they obtain the best prices. The only drawback to the business is the high price of freights. We believe the only sound policy of our Rail Roads is to put down the price of way or local freights to the lowest notch, relying upon the increase of the business of the country for their profits. Such a course would stimulate the production of the country vastly, and would benefit all.

STATE ITEMS.

The Exercises of Franklinton Academy (Rev. Geo. W. Neal, Principal,) will close on the 29th. of May, with Declamation and Addresses by the Pupils, and an Address to the students by Rev. J. P. Simpson.

Geo. Birmingham, a blind man and a graduate of the Institution for the Deaf, the Dumb and the Blind, in this city, is manufacturing, in Wadesboro, a superior article of brooms. This is one of the good fruits of the mechanical department of the Institution.

White barbers (a good institution) are doing a thriving business in Wilmington.—Several have recently located in that city, and they are being, very properly, liberally patronized.

We observe that at the National Conference of the Principals of the American Institutions for the Deaf and Dumb, very recently in session at Washington, a paper, on "Trades for the Deaf and Dumb," was read by W. J. Palmer, Esq., Principal of our North Carolina Institution.

From the Richmond Whig

HOW THE SOUTH IS GOVERNED.

If people were brought from England or France and put in all the offices in the Northern States, made Governors, Representatives in the two Houses of Congress, Judges, delegates to the State Legislatures, and placed in official positions in all the counties and cities, to the entire exclusion of Northern men—of those who own the soil and built up the institutions and industries of those Commonwealths, it would give our Northern fellow-citizens some taste of the sort of rule that now prevails in the South. But the parallel would be incomplete unless the foreign officials thus placed in power were ignorant, mercenary, corrupt and bitterly hostile.

That is just the situation of affairs in the South, with an element added that could not exist at the North—negro barbarism.—Yet many Northern people marvel much that we do not cordially welcome this condition of things. Passing over the foreign and the baser governing material that composed the majority in the late, so-called, Constitutional Convention, in which were Englishmen, Irishmen, Canadians, outcasts from various Northern States, and negroes, we have but to glance at the State ticket recently nominated by the Radical Convention—a ticket which they prepared with great care, and which they promised in advance should be the best that could be framed. That ticket is thus constituted: Governor, Brigadier General H. H. Wells, from Michigan; for Lieutenant Governor, James H. Clements, of the District of Columbia; for Attorney General, George W. Booker, a Northerner by birth, and for Congressman at large, A. M. Crane, from Connecticut. The sage Convention of negroes and carpet baggers were so hostile to Virginia that they could not find it in their hearts to nominate even a single native Radical. All must come from abroad.

It is reckoned a most heinous offence that we do not support this ticket and the negro constitution with enthusiasm.

[Special Telegram to the Richmond Dispatch.]

THE TESTIMONY OF GENERAL EWING AND OTHERS, TAKEN BY THE HOUSE MANAGERS.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The House Managers to-day proceeded with the examination of witnesses, in pursuance of the resolution of Saturday afternoon authorizing investigation as to the alleged attempts to influence votes of Senators upon impeachment.

The witnesses examined to-day were D. C. Fuller, Hon. D. W. Voorhees, General Thomas Ewing, and W. S. Huntington, of the First National Bank. The three first named were interrogated with reference to conversations with Senator Ross, but it does not appear that any proof was adduced to warrant the imputation that any improper propositions were made, or that any of these witnesses did affect the action of Mr. Ross. General Ewing was asked if he did not visit the Senator at his rooms on Friday evening last, and in reply stated that he called and inquired for the Senator, and was informed by one of the ladies of the house that Mr. Ross had just gone out. Then Gen. Ewing was asked what else the lady said to him. He replied that she said she was very much amazed at the report that she had attempted to influence the vote of Senator Ross; that she had said nothing to the Senator on the subject of impeachment, nor had he to her, and she did not know what his vote would be; that none of her acquaintances had urged her to speak to Mr. Ross, except a Radical member of Congress (Mr. Julian,) who had requested her to beseech the Senator to vote for conviction. General Ewing further testified that at the conclusion of this conversation Senator Ross returned, and the latter and himself had a brief conversation, in which reference was had to the impeachment articles, but no attempt was made by the witness to induce the Senator to vote one way or another.

The purport of the testimony of Messrs. Voorhees and Fuller was that no attempts had been made to induce the Senator to vote for acquittal, so far as they were advised.

General Ewing and Mr. Fuller are old acquaintances and intimate friends of Senator Ross, and are citizens of Kansas.

The testimony of Mr. Huntington was to establish the fact that a draft for $20,000 passed through the First National Bank of this city, endorsed by certain parties whose purpose in obtaining the money is to be sought through evidences to be offered here after.

The President has received numerous congratulatory dispatches since the verdict on Saturday. These messages come from meetings and citizens in various large cities and towns throughout the country.

The Chief Justice is now the special object of vituperation. As a specimen, we notice that the Washington Chronicle charges him with attempts to break up and divide the Radical party, and with resorting "to an extraordinary amount of dinner diplomacy and long drives with doubtful Senators to defeat Impeachment." It declares that "his long career of treachery must be exposed." The Chief Justice was never a favorite of ours politically, but surely such attacks as these cannot be agreeable even to the most determined of his present opponents, who are intelligent and right thinking men. The climax of the accusations against the Chief Justice is reached, however, when the Chronicle declares that the "Chief Justice conspired with Andrew Johnson, long ago, to save the life of Jefferson Davis." According to this, then, the Chief Justice is a disorganizer, a traitor, and a conspirator! And all because he presides impartially at the trial of the President of the United States!—Alex. Gazette.

All efforts to reconcile Gen. Butler to the nomination of Grant have failed.

Crane, the nigger candidate for Congressman at large in Virginia, is a Vermonter.

THE PROBABLE CHANGES IN THE CABINET.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The rumors of changes in the Cabinet sent hence by telegraph within the past twenty-four hours are based on suggestions from leading conservative Republicans and friends of Mr. Johnson, but are not founded on any authoritative statement of the Executive.—There is no doubt, however, that an entire or nearly complete reorganization of the Cabinet will take place within a short time after the termination of the impeachment trial, should Mr. Johnson be acquitted.

The President has not positively decided upon the names that would be sent to the Senate, but it is known that Mr. Johnson would prefer to have General Schofield confirmed for Secretary of War, to which he has already been nominated.

The President has indicated his preference for Mr. Groesbeck for Secretary of the Treasury, and Mr. Evarts for the State Department; and his friends approve these, and suggest Reverdy Johnson for Attorney-General; Judge Catron, of Illinois, for the Interior Department; ex-Senator Foster, of Connecticut, for the Post office Department, and Admiral Porter for the Navy Department.

These names are not insisted upon, however, but suggested as types of the class of men for a new organization of the Cabinet.

A CIVIL RIGHTS CASE IN BUFFALO, NEW YORK—AN IMPORTANT DECISION.—Some time since a case was raised in Buffalo affecting the validity of the law which provides separate schools for colored children. A little girl entered one of the public schools—No. 11 we believe—and was allowed to remain by the teacher. Complaint was made to the superintendent, and he decided that the child must leave. On this a case was made up which involved the important question whether, in a case of this kind, the Civil Rights bill overrides the Legislature of the State and the city charter. The case came before a general term of the Supreme Court, on appeal from a special term, and the decision was prepared by Judge Daniels. It is against the right of colored children to attend any school except those designated for them exclusively. This decision comes from a bench composed wholly of Republican judges.—New York Commercial.

Wade has been in the Senate for eighteen years.

THE WEEKLY SUN.

THE CIRCULATION OF THE "WEEKLY SUN" always very large, has of late so increased that it may be called universal. It is shedding its light for all, in all sections—North, East, South and West. Its intercourse with the South, which was necessarily interrupted during the war, has been again resumed, and the evidences of public appreciation from that quarter are multiplying every day. When honest efforts are put forth, as in the "Weekly Sun," to meet the demand for a reliable weekly record of events and an entertaining vehicle of light literature, which, while it instructs and pleases, aims to promote virtue as well as intelligence and to exclude every line of an impure and immoral tendency, it is cheering to receive such evidences of public appreciation as are coming to us from all parts of the country.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

The "WEEKLY SUN" is published every Saturday at the following exceedingly low rates to individuals and clubs when sent from one Post Office. The money, in all cases, to be remitted in advance.

For one copy for one year	$1 50

Club of twelve copies one year	15 00
Club of fifteen copies, one year	18 00
Club of twenty copies, one year	22 00
Club of twenty-five copies, one year	25 00

Postmasters will always act as agents for persons in the neighborhood of their respective offices, and forward orders and cash under the regular authority of the Department. The safest mode in remitting subscriptions is by draft or Post office order. Address

THAT CITY.

I know her walls are jasper, her palaces are fair,
And to the sound of harpings the saints are singing there;
I know that living waters flow under fruitful trees—
But ah! to make my heaven it needeth more than these.

Read on the sacred story; what more doth it unfold,
Besides the pearly gateways and the streets of shining gold?
No temple hath that city, for none is needed there;
No sun nor moon enlighteneth; can darkness, then, be fair?

Ah! now, the glad revealing, the crowning joy of all;
What need of other sunlight when God is all in all?
He fills the wide ethereal with glory all His own,
He whom my soul adoreth, the Lamb amid the throne!

O, heaven without my Saviour would be no heaven to me;
Dark were the walls of jasper, rayless the crystal sea,
He gilds earth's darkest valley with light and joy and peace;
What, then, must be the radiance when night and death shall cease?

Speed on, O lagging moments! Come birthday of the soul!
How long the night appeareth: the hours, how slow they roll!
How sweet the welcome summons that greets the willing bride!
And when mine eyes behold Him I shall be satisfied.

PROVERBS OF SOLOMON LEVI, ESQ., ATTORNEY AT LAW, ON WOMAN, ETC.

With the rib of man was woman made. In her daughters you may easily trace the love of rib bones.

At the first wedding ceremony the bridegroom slept. How many have since been led to the altar, lulled by some soft soaporific!

Woman shared with man the first apple, but she took the first bite.

This was the curse of the world: "Woman shall love fine clothes, and man shall pay for them."

No sooner had Eve seen Sat(i)n, than she wished to clothe herself.

Ask a woman, what is meant by happiness, and she will reply, "a velvet dress with fourteen breadths to the skirt."

When cats wash their faces, bad weather is at hand; when women use washes to their complexions, it is a true sign that the beauty of the day is gone.

Many powder their faces, that their skins may seem white; it is as the poulterer flours an old hen, that it may pass for a tender chicken.

He who marries a pretty face only is like a buyer of cheap furniture—the varnish that caught the eye will not endure the fireside blaze.

Better is love and gingham, than coldness and cassimeres.

How many go to be married, because there will be a carriage to bring them home from church!

The house-keeping book is the thunder cloud of marriage. It is accompanied with the lightening of the husband's purse.

The heart that breaks too easily is like an empty nut, that cracks readily from its very emptiness.

As harp-strings snap with the damp, so do a husband's strongest resolves with the tears of his wife.

Be not too affectionate; without bitters there were no sweets.

The girdle of beauty is not a stay lace.

This is the only excuse for tight lacing: A good housewife should have no waste.

Store up this truth, Oh! woman: Be charitable unto thy fellow-sister. Imitate not the stags that chase from their herd their wounded companion.

A good woman is like a Cremona fiddle; age only makes its tone the sweeter.

Brilliants of the first water are those given to stay the wife's first flood of tears.

She who wears false ringlets is like the fire of green wood; it has curls of smoke, but he who would kindle the flame must puff vigorously.

As birds are snared with hairs, so are many men with a woman's head-dress.

The voice of the virgin is soft as the cooing of the wood pigeon on St. Valentine's day. Her laughter is like the sound of distant bells ringing for a wedding.

She is timid as the Higland doe. He who would creep near to her must do it—as deer-stalkers do—on his knees. At the voice of a man she flies, as a gazelle at the roaring of a lion.

But no sooner has she tasted wedding cake, than she grows bold, as the tiger that has eaten raw food.

Choose not your wives as you do grapes, from the bloom on them.

The wise wife opposes wrath with kindness. A sand bag will stop a cannon ball by its yielding.

A BEAUTIFUL LEGEND.—A charming tradition is connected with the site on which the temple of Sodom was erected. It is said to have been owned in common by two brothers, one of whom had a family; the other had none. On the evening succeeding the harvest, the wheat having been gathered in separate shocks, the elder brother said to his wife:

"My younger brother is unable to bear the burden and heat of the day; I will arise, take my shocks, and place them with his without his knowledge."

The younger brother being actuated by similar kind motives said within himself:

"My elder brother has a family and I have none; I will contribute to their support.—I will take off my shocks and place them with his, without his knowledge."

Judge their mutual astonishment, when, on the following morning, they found their shocks undiminished. This course of events transpired for several nights, when each resolved to stand guard and solve this mystery. They did so, when on the following night they met each other, half way between their respective shocks, with arms full.—Upon ground hallowed with such associations as these was the Temple of Solomon erected—so spacious and magnificent, the admiration and wonder of the world! Alas! how many in these days would sooner steal their brother's whole shock than add to it a single sheaf."

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B., except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whom it is made, may stamp it before it is used; and if used after the 30th of July, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot afterwards be effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument, to appropriately stamp it, renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrants, publication, &c., in which case these, as the original process, severally require stamps.

Writs of scire facias are subject to stamp duty as original process.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and is subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits of legal proceedings.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any printed or written evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at any time designated, are subject to stamp duty as Promissory Notes.

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage, at time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps, denoting a duty of five cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamps to which this instrument is liable, under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by one of the parties.

In conveyance of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note; when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required, and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rates required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE OFFICIAL HISTORY
OF THE WAR,
ITS CAUSES, CHARACTER, CONDUCT AND RESULTS.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
A BOOK FOR ALL SECTIONS AND ALL PARTIES.

THIS GREAT WORK PRESENTS THE ONLY complete and impartial analysis of the causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with APPARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire everywhere manifested to obtain this work, its official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One Agent in Easton, Pa., reports 72 subscribers in three days.

One in Boston, Mass., 103 subscribers in four days.

One in Memphis, Tenn., 106 subscribers in five days
